“ I am honored to be a friend of Bobby since we shared many coincidences in life. We were both from WV, schooled in WV, taught at the same school for many years, fished together and had at least one friend in common. We will miss your humor, sports stories and life experiences. I offer my heartfelt condolences to the family.

“ My family and I had just met Bobby a couple of years ago. He was very much a perfect fit when it came to conversing with the men in my group. I like to give him a hard time since I am a wife and a mother of four young men. I believe he took great pleasure picking on me. He was such a proud man. Over the years he would speak about the wonderful things his children and grandchildren were doing with such pride. We would sit and talk about everything from the weather to old friends and how we knew them while Deloris served ice teas. It is amazing while you are sharing stories how many of the same roads you've been on and had not crossed paths before. I am happy to say thinking of him makes my heart smile because I have nothing but good memories. I will miss hearing his take on things I wished to talk about. I know he was able to spend time with an old friend who came and spent the day with him before he got really sick and that made him so happy. Our question "why" sadly won't get an answer but from what I witnessed Bobby continued to live his life like he wasn't going anywhere. If he can, he might just be watching us all now...so you better say something nice. LOLYou are already missed deeply my friend
