“ I met Loraine when I was a young teen and friends with Debbie. I had spent many a night at their home. Loraine was a very loving, kind, and caring woman but strict just as well. I remember one night Debbie and I got a bottle (glass then) of pop and all kinds of snacks and went into the bedroom to listen to a 45 record that we kept playing over an over just to write the words dow. Loraine told us we had to stop and go to bed cause there was school the next day. We turned out the light but used the flashlight to see with. The next morning we both got chewed out and grounded for 3 days from seeing each other because we stayed up so late and next morning we didn't want to get up. I will always treasure the lessons I got to learn from Loraine and her family.
