“ Every time I left Joycie's house, she ALWAYS had a dish of Dove chocolate candies she offered 'one for the road'. She also ALWAYS had time for visiting. She was a wonderful woman! Faye Pangle

“ Unseen, unheard, so loved, held dear, forever in our hearts. Joycie was such a blessing. As she moved from one season to the next, her connection to God was constant. Her door was always open; she always listened and spoke from her heart or with her facial expressions. She lived in joy each day proving stress doesn't mean we can't find contentment. Changing paces took courage-Joycie didn't put things off because she hadn't thought about it before, it didn't fit her schedule, or she was too rigid to part from her routine. Joycie's life didn't consist of the abundance of possessions. Her footprints should guide us in our own walk of faith-to help us not focus on our limitations but on our unlimited resources...one day at a time. Our memories of Joycie are treasures...for every tear, a smile. You all are wrapped in our love, our thought, and our prayers. Sharing your sorrow, Pete and Dianne
