“ I miss my mom so much right now. I can feel her absence as much as I felt her presence, can only hope she's at peace. I love you more than you love me more, mom.

“ I remember a thousand things, her love and loyalty to the people she cared about, she had a wonderful sense of humor especially when she could embarrass me ,she was complicated and spirited and yet did not like confrontation, I remember how shy she was until she trusted you and that you had to earn. I remember her passion for animals because they gave her unconditional love . She loved Christmas and made your birthday feel very special. She could read a child a book like no body else. I remember the pride she had for her daughters and wanting to protect them from any harms way. Shannon she gave you her treasured poetry because she new you would keep it safe and love it. Christina you have always been by Moms side and that was not always easy but that is why you are special. She was deeply grateful that she found the Lord and shared that memory with me. She wanted me to do the same, it is a work in progress. she had a sense of pride about being a Mays and loved her family, she missed her brother/ best friend Bruce every day. Her boy Brennon the light of her life " right boy!" And Cierra who she was so proud of and Linda found out they had things in common, how she loved the gift you made her. These are the memories I choose to share for someone I will miss forever.
