“ My condolences to her family and friends. Mrs. Doss was my music teacher at Toms Brook Elementary School. It was obvious that she loved working with children and sharing her love of music. No matter how awful we sounded or how slow we were to catch on, she always gave us lots of praise and encouragement. Music class was one of my favorites. I went on to take piano lessons and even teach piano for many years. I always smile when I think of those days with her, how perfect she always looked, hands in the air directing us, and how much fun we had singing and playing simple instruments way back then.
