“ She was a warm, kind and caring woman. She believed her purpose on Earth was to help others and her community. She demonstrated this clearly with her family and friends. She was in her Beauty shop helping others always looking their best and those that just needed someone to talk with during difficult times. She found pleasure in the simplest things in life. She loved music and inspired others to learn how to play the piano. She enjoyed teaching and playing music for her local church. Gardening was one of her most treasured enjoyment. We will treasure her memory forever. Rest In Peace, grandmother. Danielle Painter
