“ I have information from a very reliable inside source that Ona used to keep Fred in line with a firm pinch in the earlier days. We surely will miss Ona. Her mold was well kept for many years in order for her to take it with her to the next world. That "Mona Lisa grin" always kept us guessing as you never knew what she would come up with next. Reminders of using her walker truly went on deaf ears with a come back of "ooooooooooooo I don't need that thing," or "that's not mine," or "what do I need that d--- thing for..." Our light of entertainment has moved on to forever glow for those gone before us.

*Take care Sharon, Fred and families. You have truly been great to work with and are counted among out favorite families.
