“ Our deepest condolences to Christopher and his family. Sheila has been a beloved part of my life since I was born. My mom and Sheila’s mom were lifelong friends, and my dad and her dad were friends before the two couples got married. Sheila was 6 months old when I was born, and her brother John was a few months old when my sister Sharon was born. The Musgraves and the Carrolls always spent the big holidays together. Sheila was my first friend, my first sleep-away (and years later, the source of my first cigarette). My sister and Sheila became grandparents around the same time and enjoyed sharing grandkid stories. During my sister’s final illness, Sheila was a ray of light. Her laughter, caring, and compassion for others will remain forever in my heart.

With love and sympathy to her family,

Linda Carroll Moore

“ Years ago, at a Garden Club meeting, there was a little fuss over how something should be done. I, being a recent president of the club, was a bit bossy and opinionated, as I was wont to be. Liz disagreed strongly...We looked eyeball to eyeball, and then I said, "I love you, Liz." Her response was, "I love you too." We hugged, and that was the end of it. I wish all disagreements could be resolved so easily. I love her and I will miss her. She was special...Barbara Billings
