“ To the family of Shirley Hepner : I am sorry for your loss. I lost someone very dear to me also. The Bible has greatly helped me with the grief that I have experienced .[Romans 15:4] There is a bible account of Jesus grieving for his friend ,when he died . This help me see the compassion that he has. The account also gives hope, that we could see our loved ones again. How? When Jesus brought his friend Lazarus back to life. This was a preview to us, that soon under the kingdom rule, our loved ones could be returned to us also![John 11:11-44] That is the hope set out in the Holy Bible that has help me to cope with my loss, Another scripture at Acts 24:15 says , "I have hope that there is going to be a resurrection. "Our loved ones will have another chance to live ! [Roman 6:23] What a loving and forgiving God we have. May you have comfort as you consider these encouraging scriptures. Sincerely Yours, Barb
